The new Lely Luna cow brush offers optimum comfort for your cows

Cow comfort and hygiene are important issues in a barn. Lely has developed a new Lely Luna cow brush that alternates the direction of rotation intermittently. This innovation will keep the brush in a good condition for a long time and guarantees a better brushing result. The brush has spirally positioned bristles of variable thickness for maximum comfort.

The Lely Luna cow brush has been developed to give optimum comfort to the cows, enabling them to get rid of dust and itches. The cows love the brush and will go there several times a day for sheer pleasure. A healthy and shiny coat as well as optimal cow comfort are the most important effects achieved by the Luna cow brush. The Luna cow brush provides the right balance between the flexibility of the pendulum movement and the right back pressure that cows need to also scratch their necks and heads. Due to the alternating direction of rotation, the bristles will keep their shape longer than those of brushes that only have one direction of rotation. The combination of soft and more rigid bristles offers the right balance to ensure effective and comfortable skin brushing.

Because of its clever design, the Lely Luna cow brush is maintenance free due to the absolute minimum amount of moving parts. The brush is directly driven by the motor and is activated by just touching it. To ensure optimum safety, the Luna cow brush is fitted with an overload protection.

The Lely Luna cow brush is delivered as a kit. One person can easily mount the brush because there are no heavy parts that need to be lifted and no special skills are required. The device will normally be installed onto a post or against the wall. The standard fixation post dimensions are: 2", 2½", 3" and 4" and posts of 6" and 8" square. The Luna cow brush is available both for 230V - 50Hz and 110V - 60Hz electrical installation.
